15 years have passed since the breathtakingly devastating Great Japanese Earthquake. The fractured people of Japan, still unable to return to their homeland, live in refugee camps around the world with limited rights. Tsumi Camp in Taiwan is no different. And Japanese sentiment causes an innocent mother and child to be murdered, sparking a hostile group of misrefugees to take up weapons. Genichiro Ryo, an innocent survivor of the disaster now living alone in a Taiwanese town, of a moment and behind the curtain, armed uprising and anti-Japanese forces, will stand up to make a difference. Genichiro's desperate wish to stop the bloodshed blows the flame of life into the miserable refugee camp.

The Story Thus Far

15 years after natural disasters split Japan in two, the country is now ruled jointly by China and America.

Scattered Japanese refugees around the world are unable to return home, even those in the camps of Taiwan. Anti-Japanese sentiment causes an innocent mother and child to be murdered, spurring a hardline group of former camp residents to take up weapons and form a terrorist circle and setting the stage for an ethnic conflict. Genichiro Ryu, discovering that these events have been masterminded by someone seeking to have all Japanese refugees banished from Taiwan, visits the refugees in an attempt to stop the terrorists and prevent any bloodshed. His fervor stirs up a storm that will greatly change the present situation. Genichiro Ryu, a powerless man on the side of justice. His long battle has just begun!

A Spirit of the Sun Characters

[Genichira Ryu]

Hero of the Japanese political family, the Ryus. Survived his parents in the 2003 annual disasters that struck Japan. Orphan, being rescued by Takemoto, went missing when crossing the strait divided by the splitting of the Japanese islands. Later lived in Taiwan under Taiwanese parents for 15 years, lacking any memory of his childhood. Even after his memory returned, he swore he would not return to Japan, but when learning of the plight of Japanese still unable to return to their homeland, he made the decision to start his home once again. Taiwanese name: Xian

[Zhang]

Raised in a Taipei orphanage since a young age. Worked for the Taiwanese mafia Liu Xia like dog with his strength, but after discovering the gangs manipulation of his "brother" and friend Jing Jiang into killing an innocent Chinese mother and child, swears revenge against his employers.

[Ryataro Hata]

Detective for the Taipei Police. Moved to Taiwan with his parents after the disasters, abandoned his Japanese citizenship and became his ex-patriate, Yu Liubang. Clinging after the mind behind the murder of a Japanese mother and child and rising pressure against Japanese refugees.

[Hsiao Jimenchi]

A personal secretary and servant of the Hsu family for multiple generations. Following Genichira's travels on the orders of Takemoto after 15 years of helping refugees escape a South and North Japan and elsewhere around the world. He has finally been reunited with Genichira in Taiwan.

[Takemoto Ryu]

Japan's highest government Chief Security and the LRP Committee's president. Called together to discuss the political situation between the Japanese Government with the prime minister after the disasters and determining that Japan could not repair its infrastructure on its own, agreed to request reconstruction aid from America and China.

[Tokashi and Matsuo Ryu]

Schoolbus parents, and LDP representatives. The disaster struck while they were out shopping, with their son left at home. While returning home to save his father's, their car was caught in a landslide and they were killed.

[Goro Sakamoto]

Met and married with children in 2003 while coming emergency supplies to the devastated masses of Tokyo. Lost his home, wife and daughter when the Mito earthquake hit Kato.

[Liu Hai Dong]

The biggest crime syndicate in Taiwan, headed by Huang and controlling local crime, such as Yang Jie, Luande and Deng. They took the Anti-Japanese Group's money and created the group that would lead to political protests against the Japanese refugees. Their spiritual younger brother Deng Wang killed a Japanese mother and child.

[Anti-Japanese Group]

A shadow group composed of politicians, officials, military officers and businessmen. They put pressure on the Japanese refugees that threaten their interests, applying political hand to the pro-Japanese president. Nakao Father is a member.

[Gao]

Representative of the 16,000 Japanese refugees in the Taiwanese camp upon learning that the support payments from America and the United Nations could be ended next year, strongly negotiates for Japanese refugees to be naturalized into Taiwanese society.

[Karofuji]

Unlike the camp leader Gao, who seeks harmony with Taiwanese society, this leader of a Japanese nationalist people's movement seeks to repatriate and repopulate his homeland through force alone. Planning an armed uprising in three different spots in Taiwan.

[Shu Qin]

Kan's Chinese politician with her husband until the natural members of 2003. While enjoying the aftermath, they come across an underground conspiracy and saved him as their own debt. Her husband has since died.

[Cai Qing-ling]

First female president of Taiwan, a brilliant and wise woman. Pro-Japanese.
